

Redwood Region RISE

California Jobs First (formerly CERF)

Our Governance Structure

Overview

Redwood Region RISE (Resilient Inclusive Sustainable Economy) is committed to facilitate our Collaborative in leading an inclusive, diverse, transparent, and accountable regional planning process. To center the community voices that don't always participate in or benefit from economic development planning processes, we are establishing a regional-level, formal participatory governance structure designed to shift power to, and lift up, marginalized voices within and beyond California Jobs First (formerly Community Economic Resilience Fund, CERF).

Our governance structure promotes and mandates the active participation of citizens and representatives from 32 Tribal Nations (federally and non-federally recognized), four counties, and eleven community partner categories on all decision-making bodies. Through inclusive planning tables, we aim to develop a regional strategy and recommended investments to grow sustainable industries, diversify regional economies, and increase access to high-quality jobs in our Region.

CA Jobs First: Bird's Eye View

1. Economic Development Pilot

The Economic Development Pilot is not directly tied to the Planning and Implementation Phases. The Pilot illustrates projects that are ready for implementation, advance the goals of CA Jobs First, and may be funded during the Implementation Phase of the program.

2. Planning Phase

Each of California's 13 regions receives ~$5M to create a Collaborative to lead an inclusive, diverse, and accountable regional planning process resulting in a regional strategy and recommended investments to grow sustainable industries, diversify regional economies, and increase access to high-quality jobs.

3. Catalyst Program

The Catalyst Program allocates up to $14 million (totaling $182M statewide) for each of the 13 Regions to bridge the gap between planning regional economic development strategies and implementing projects designed to achieve outcomes that align with those strategies.

4. Tribal Funding Opportunity

The Tribal Funding Opportunity allocates up to $25 million to support economic development in Tribal communities through Tribal-led planning and implementation projects between January 2024–September 2026.

5. Implementation Phase

The State will release rolling competitive grants between winter 2022–autumn 2026 to fund projects put forward by each Region’s Collaborative. Criteria such as demonstrated community support, alignment with climate goals, adherence to labor standards, and access to high-quality jobs with clear employment pathways for underserved and incumbent workers are required elements of project applications.

Zooming In: Our Timeline

June–August 2023: Seating Our Collaborative

Redwood Region RISE's Collaborative surfaced all organizations doing vital community and economic development work in our Tribal Lands and four counties. This informed our Endorsement Sheets, which allowed the Collaborative to nominate our Region's Voting Members and put forward recommendations for representatives on the Sector Planning Tables.

The Equity Council started meeting and will audit the nominees selected by the Collaborative to ensure fair and balanced representation, specifically from our Priority Communities*. After confirming and announcing the nominees, new partners will be on-boarded, trainings delivered, Data Collection and Payment Forms and contracts processed, and Partnership Agreement Letters signed. The Convening Team will submit a first draft of the Regional Summary Part 1.

September 2023–May 2024: Crafting The Regional Roadmap

Contracted facilitators guide the hybridly convened Local and Tribal Planning Tables to surface local-level priorities, proposed projects, initiatives, and strategies.

These will be elevated to the relevant, closed-bodied Sector Tables. With these inputs, as well as data and analysis from the drafted Regional Plan Part I, Sector Tables craft strategies for the Regional Roadmap, and elevate projects of regional benefit. All deliberative bodies put forward criteria for evaluating initiatives, and create processes and rubrics to evaluate proposals.

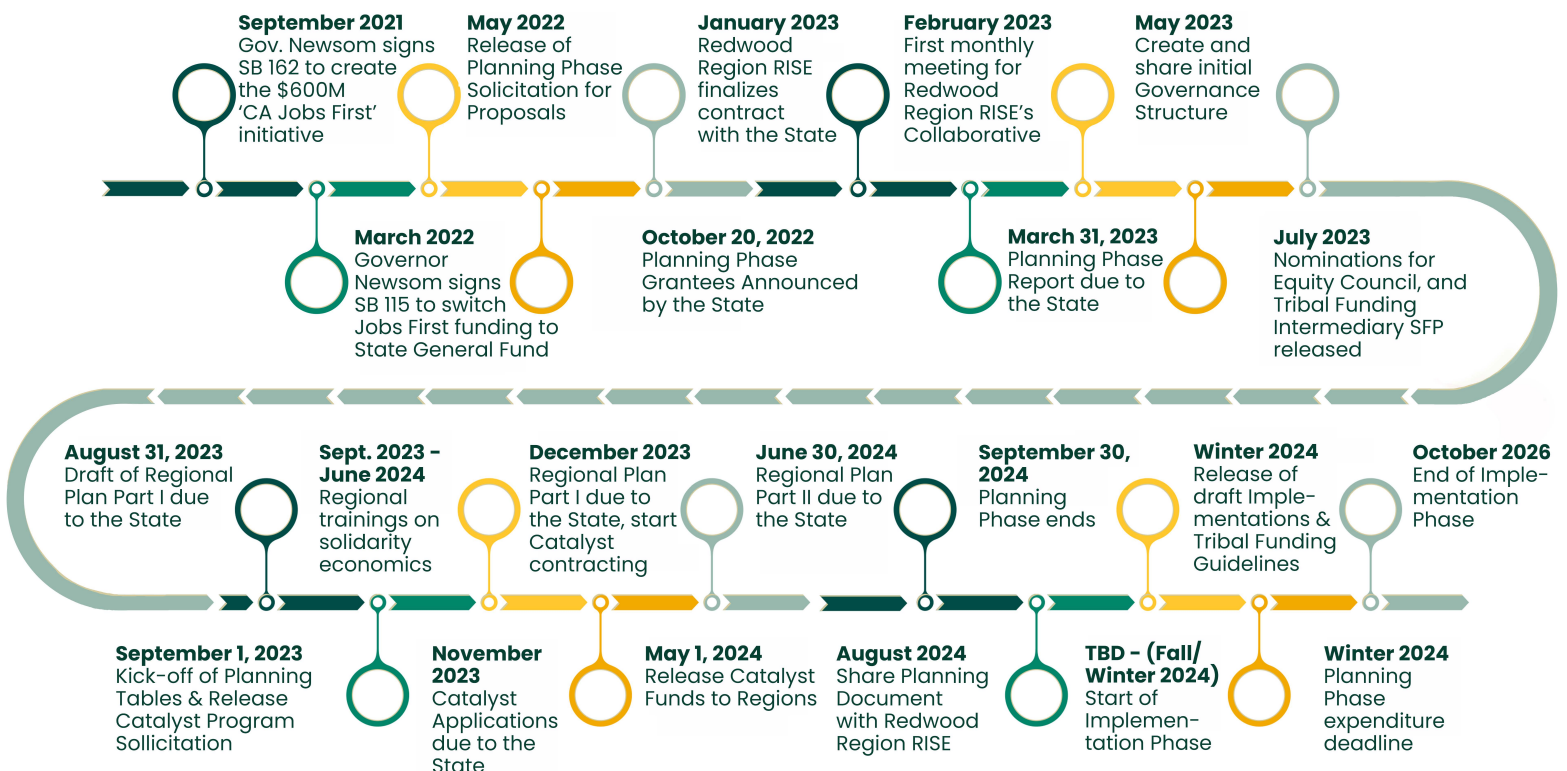

June 2024: Finalizing The Regional Roadmap

With inputs from the Local and Tribal Planning Tables, Sector Tables collectively put forward a slate of proposed projects and strategies to the Voting Members. Three to five projects are identified for funding. Redwood Region RISE delivers the Regional Roadmap to the State.

June–August 2024: Creating Long–Term Governance And Organizing

All bodies engage in appreciative inquiry of Collaborative process and organization, identify governance issues for redress, formalize charter and voting rules, the process for seating members, our Region's performance on equity and inclusion on decision-making bodies, and fairness of outcomes to date.

Our Governance Structure

Redwood Region RISE's governance structure in the CA Jobs First Planning Phase is illustrated in the flow chart below:

Redwood Region RISE California Jobs First Planning Phase Flow Chart

Descriptions Of Bodies, Roles, And Responsibilities

1. Collaborative (formerly High Road Transition Collaborative, HRTC)

Collaboratives are broad-based regional groups convened by a skilled and impartial intermediary to plan for economic recovery and a sustainable and equitable economic future. The State requires all regional Collaboratives to:

- Have subregional representation on all decision-making bodies;
- Include Priority Communities* on all decision-making bodies;
- Have Collaborative members sign Partnership Agreement Letters;
- Have balanced representation from all partner groups, from all subregions where they can be identified.

Redwood Region RISE's Collaborative aims to advance a shared prosperity where workers and communities in Tribal Lands, Del Norte, Humboldt, Lake, and Mendocino Counties share equally in the benefits of a carbon-neutral future.

The Collaborative is the community from which the other bodies—the Tribal, Local, and Sector Planning Tables; Voting Member Block; and Equity Council—are assembled. The Collaborative may be asked to advise on key issues and strategies.

Any organization or individual who is aligned with the CA Jobs First process and goals is welcome to join our Collaborative. Partnership Agreement Letters are required and should be signed on or before September 1st, 2023. Stipends will be available for attending meetings ($100/meeting).

2. Tribal Planning Table

The Tribal Planning Table will bring together economic development planners and personnel from our Region's federally and non-federally recognized Tribal Lands to explore issues specific to economic development on Indigenous Territory and identify opportunities for cross collaboration and capacity building. The Tribal Planning Table will surface Tribal priorities, proposed projects, initiatives, and strategies to the Sector Tables (more information below). Signed Partnership Agreement Letters will be required, and stipends will be available ($100/meeting).

3. Local Planning Tables

The four Local Planning Tables are:

- Del Norte County and Tribal Lands
- Humboldt County and Tribal Lands
- Lake County and Tribal Lands
- Mendocino County and Tribal Lands

The Local Planning Tables aim to surface local-level priorities, proposed projects, initiatives, and strategies to the Sector Planning Tables. Partnership Agreement Letters will be required stipends will be available ($100/meeting)

4. Sector Planning Tables

The four Sector Planning Tables are:

- Allied Health & Caregiving
- Arts, Culture, and Tourism
- Renewable & Resilient Energy (Wind, Solar, Microgrids)
- Working Lands & Blue Economy

The four Sector Planning Tables are primarily responsible for surfacing strategies, identifying constraints and problem-solving solutions, and promoting projects for implementation. They also play a role in forging partnerships and identifying leveraging opportunities for their sector. Each group includes members representing the government, workforce development, and labor/trades to help guide those aspects of strategy development.

Sector Planning Tables will put forward projects and strategies to be evaluated and voted on by the Voting Member Block (more information below) to be put forward for implementation. As this will be a more intensive time commitment, signed Partnership Agreement Letters will be required, and stipends will be available.

5. Voting Member Block

Key decisions are made by the approximately 50 voting members that comprise the Voting Member Block. The Voting Member Block is balanced regionally and accounts for all Required Partner Categories* and voices from Priority Communities.

6. Equity Council

This Equity Council includes around twenty-four community members representing Priority Communities. The Council will guide and oversee Redwood Region RISE's community engagement process; ensure representation in decision-making; and help seat and balance the Collaborative's closed bodies. Signed Partnership Agreement Letters will be required, and stipends will be available ($100/meeting).

7. Cross-Cutting Experts

The Cross-Cutting Experts will inform the Collaborative on important, intersecting topics such as education, housing, broadband, entrepreneurship, and workforce development in our Region.

Technical Assistance

- 8. Redwood Region RISE's Contractors will provide facilitation, trainings, and technical assistance to support the Collaborative objective to advance economic development plans and strategies to diversify local economies and develop sustainable industries that create high-quality, broadly accessible jobs for all Californians.

9. Convening Team

The Convening Team is comprised of Arcata Economic Development Corporation (AEDC), the California Center for Rural Policy (CCRP), and North Coast Opportunities (NCO). The Convening Team coordinates and provides administrative support and technical assistance with data, analysis, and facilitation support. The Team will help facilitate the Collaborative's decision-making processes leading up to the Implementation Phase.
